Resource Sites Overview

The Digital Accountability and Transparency Act (DATA Act, 2014) built upon FFATA (Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act, 2006) federal spending reports. DATA Act was implemented, and reporting began, in January 2017. A history of the legislation is found on Treasury's About the Data Transparency Program. Data is displayed at USAspending.gov, demonstrating government spending.

Over the years, revisions and additions to policy and reporting requirements have challenged Federal agencies to achieve full compliance. The plethora of OMB memoranda and ever-changing requirement documents provide the details needed to assure highest data quality is presented to the public.

USDA OCFO's DATA Act Resources for Web site provides links to official OCFO, OMB, and Treasury policy and guidance as well as FAQs, reporting schedules, and a variety of instructions. OCFO provides several processing reports within the HANA General Ledger in the FMMI Canned Reports area. For D2 reporters, one of the most valuable documents on the site is the File D2 Error and Value Workbook.

The Department of the Treasury (Treasury) is responsible for reporting requirements, processing/validation of submitted data files, and publication of data to USAspending.gov for public view.

- Data Broker Reporting Portal Treasury site for agency data submission.
- Treasury Data Transparency Site is the official location for official reporting documents including requirement guidance and technical architecture information.
- USAspending.gov, maintained by Treasury, displays federal award and financial information, agency and recipient profiles, data analysis and charts depicting the extent of federal spending, and insights into how the federal government benefits society.

File D2 Error & Value Workbook

Agencies that report File D2 data should take advantage of the File D2 Error and Value Workbook \(E&V\) found on the Resources web page. It contains essential D2 file information sorted on a variety of tabs and is a significant help when creating an accurate file. The E&V is updated at least annually, typically when Treasury releases a fresh set of requirements or changes to reporting processes. TARD notifies agencies when a new version is released and uploaded to the Resources web page.

Authoritative Sources tab

AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES FOR DATA REPORTED IN FILE D2
Authoritative source details are found on the Domain Values tab of Treasury's Reporting Submission Specification (RSS) and in Treasury's Practices and Procedures document.
SAM.GOV IS AUTHORITATIVE SOURCE FOR:
- Legal Entity (recipient) information, such as Name, Address, DUNS or UEI, and dates of registration.
- Agency SubTier Agency Codes and Agency Office Codes are part of the Federal Hierarchy data on SAM.gov. Source for SubTier Agency Codes: https://files.usaspending.gov/reference_data/agency_codes.csv (SUBTIER CODE column) For Office Code questions: Contact TARD to set up a new Office or ask questions
- CFDA/Assistance Listing information can be downloaded from SAM.gov Data Services: https://sam.gov/data-services/
NOTE 1: The downloaded file is .csv format. If opened directly to Excel, zeroes at the end of CFDA Numbers will disappear.

FMMI HANA Management Reports

Agencies must track the File D2 records from submission to USAspending.gov. One part of this tracking is to watch for which records were submitted vs those records which were rejected at USAspending.gov. There are two helpful HANA Management Reports in FMMI (<https://portal.fms.usda.gov/>) for finding a list of records submitted and the errors identified at USAspending. Within FMMI, the Folder Path is Public Folders/FMMI/Canned Reports/General Ledger/ (See Accessing Certification and Error Reports in FMMI Fiori on the Resources web page).

The DATA Act D2 Inbound Status Report is used to locate a copy of the records that were submitted to USAspending.

DATA ACT - D2 Inbound Status Report

This report will provide agencies with processing status of the inbound and outbound files that are processed and submitted to Treasury.

The DATA Act D2 Broker Error and Warning Report advises agencies of records which were rejected at USAspending due to an Error. Records which have been marked with an “E” in column G, must be corrected and resubmitted in the next reporting window. Records with a “W” in column G have been published to USAspending.

DATA ACT - D2 Broker Error and Warning Report

This report will provide agencies with the details of the FABS errors and warnings that are generated when a file is submitted to the Treasury. Agencies can then identify the records that have failed FABS validation.

Treasury's Data Transparency Site

Treasury's Data Transparency site is the official location for all DATA Act guidance and reporting requirements. The site provides access to the Governmentwide Spending Data Model (GSDM formerly called DAIMS) consisting of documents such as GSDM Practices and Procedures (P&P) and Reporting Submission Specifications (RSS) as well as the current reporting schedule and information on the architecture and access to the GitHub open-source coding behind the reporting, validation, and publication processes.

Official DATA Act guidance:

GSDM (Governmentwide Spending Data Model)

These documents advise federal agencies about what data to report, where to get the data, and how to format and submit it.

- GSDM Practices and Procedures (P&P)
General practices and procedures for preparing, validating, and submitting data to the Data Broker.
- Reporting Submission Specification (RSS)
Spreadsheet with data elements, metadata, and instructions needed to ensure data is submitted in the appropriate file format.
- Validation Rules
Spreadsheet that describes the rules applied to submitted data to ensure high data quality for field and cross-file validations.
- Interface Definition Document (IDD)
Spreadsheet describing how Treasury gathers additional data from governmentwide systems. Agencies are not required to submit these data.

~ Overview

The DATA Act requires publication of federal award data to USAspending.gov for public view. The website provides profiles of agencies and recipients, specific award details, and data analysis with nice charts and graphs.

Recipient and Agency Profiles: Summaries of federal funding received by entities and distributed by agencies.

Specific Award Information: Display of specific award data, including the purpose and beneficiaries as well as recipient and funding details. Example: USDA's Rural Development granted $100,000 to a rural community in Nebraska (Recipient) to update a water treatment plant (Purpose) to support small business and ensure residents' health (Beneficiaries).

Data Analytics: Visual renditions of data are presented within most pages on the site. Select "Explore the Data" from the top menu to view a variety of data analytics.

Access to Resources: Helpful information, such as Glossary, Data Dictionary, and Training Videos can be accessed using "Find Resources" option on the top right side of site menu.

Description

CORRECT PEST IDENTIFICATION IS CRUCIAL FOR SUCCESSFUL IMPLEMENTATION OF INTEGRATED PEST MANAGEMENT IN AGRICULTURE. UNFORTUNATELY, IDENTIFICATION REQUIRES EXPERT CONSULTATION AND IS TIME CONSUMING. AS A RESULT, MANY PESTICIDE APPLICATIONS ARE MADE UNNECESSARILY, WITH ASSOCIATED ENVIRONMENTAL AND ECONOMIC COSTS, OR FAIL TO BE MADE DESPITE BEING JUSTIFIED. THE GOAL OF THIS PROJECT IS TO DEVELOP AI-BASED DECISION SUPPORT SYSTEM (DSS) FOR PESTS OF THE INLAND PACIFIC NORTHWEST SMALL GRAIN SYSTEM. THIS DSS WILL ALLOW FARMERS AND OTHER STAKEHOLDERS TO IDENTIFY PESTS BY TAKING A CELLPHONE PICTURE AND UPLOADING IT TO A MOBILE APPLICATION.
